DR FALK PHARMA UK SWITCH TO SOLUS DISTRIBUTION WITH AAH PHARMACEUTICALS.

Dr Falk Pharma UK Ltd are pleased to announce they have appointed AAH Pharmaceuticals as their solus distribution partner for Budenofalk 3mg capsules, Budenofalk 9mg granules and Salofalk 500mg and 1g suppositories.

From 1st July 2015 AAH Pharmaceuticals will be the sole distributor for these products to all dispensing points in the UK. Dr Falk Pharma UK Ltd is implementing these changes to ensure the efficient supply and distribution of medicines to meet UK patient needs. The distribution arrangements for all other Dr Falk products in the UK will remain the same.

Rachel Gainey commercial manager for Dr Falk Pharma UK comments: 'Dr Falk Pharma UK are committed to patient focussed practice and believes that these changes provide the best way of ensuring the availability of these products for all UK patients at all times.'

Chris Frost, sales director for AAH, added: 'We are delighted to be selected by Dr Falk and to offer this range of products to our customers.'

'We believe this arrangement, along with other recent distribution wins, will provide new opportunities for customers to discover the full range of commercial, business and professional benefits which trading with AAH has to offer.'

'In addition to a comprehensive product range, we strive to provide an efficient, trusted and first rate service - and we look forward to adding Dr Falk products to this offer.'

Dr Falk Pharma UK provides pharmaceutical drugs for bowel and liver diseases using patient centred formulations and innovative delivery systems to ensure targeted release of the active drug.
